Sean, I apologize for just now getting back with you. We're constrained from scheduling Q1 events until we get the Congressional schedule for next year, but I know the boss is still interested in the trip if we can make it work. I'm happy to stay in touch with you though as we get some insights on what that's going to look like, and hopefully we can make this happen sooner rather than later. Thanks for being patient, we'll plan to talk soon. Best,

-Jon

Dear Brad and Jon,

Congressman Tom Reed (R-NY) just returned yesterday from Taiwan, and I wanted to share with you his itinerary (please see attached). This gives Mr. Owens a rough idea of what he might expect if he goes. It can be adjusted as per his needs and wishes to incorporate whatever other stops, or meetings, he might want to make. You might also want to speak with Mr. Reed's Chief of Staff, Jay Dutcher, who accompanied him on the trip, just to get his take on the experience.

Jon, I remember you mentioning the first half of January as a possible time when Mr. Owens might consider visiting Taiwan. As discussed, Taiwan's legislative and presidential elections will be held on Saturday, January 14th and Taiwan officials have no problem at all with Members visiting at that time. In fact, they think it'd be one of the more interesting times for them to be there.

We look forward to discussing this possible trip with you further. As you know, Park Strategies, LLC, Senator D'Amato and I are registered with the U.S. Department of Justice, under the Foreign Agents Registration Act, as agents on behalf of our client, the Taipei Economic and Cultural Representative Office (TECRO) in the United States.

Dear Jon,

We're happy hearing Rep. Owens might soon visit Taiwan. January 11th-14th is obviously a little more exciting, given current events at the time, but either time slot's fine.

Please see attached a DRAFT itinerary for Rep. Reed's trip. As you can see, there are several blocks of free time for anything else that Rep. Owens might want to do there.

Let's talk soon, thanks so much.

Best wishes,

Funny you should ask! Literally just got word from the boss that he's interested in going either Jan 4 – 7 or Jan 11 – 14. I believe his preference is for the former, but I have relayed the election angle and really either would work. Likewise, he would welcome Mr. Hanna coming along, for sure.

Two things I wanted to ask. First, is staff welcome on the trip, and if so how many? Second, can you send me a (rough, I know) agenda for what would take place on his trip over there? Just something I can share with the boss to let him know what it is he would be doing with his time over there. Really I'd like to be able to show him likely flight options, give him a sense of how long he'd be there and what meetings might take place.

Thanks Sean! Talk soon, -jon

Vance,

Senator Lieberman has several times told my boss, former Senator Alfonse D'Amato, that while he would try visiting Taiwan this year, it's much more likely he'll go next year. Has he thus had any further thoughts on visiting Taiwan in 2012? Anytime's good, but two dates to keep an eye on Taiwan's legislative and presidential elections on Saturday, January 14th and the presidential inauguration on Sunday, May 20th. But anytime that works for Senator Lieberman is good for Taiwan. Thanks, Vance.

Dear Vance,

Thanks very much for your call back last Wednesday. As you know, Park Strategies, LLC and I are registered with the U.S. Department of Justice, under the Foreign Agents Registration Act, as agents on behalf of our client, the Taipei Economic and Cultural Representative Office (TECRO) in the United States.

I understand Senator Lieberman has no immediate plans to visit Taiwan, but that he looks forward to doing so before he leaves office. That's wonderful news. However, it's just come to my attention that Senator Lieberman will visit Singapore in June. As Taiwan's very much on the way to and from Singapore, it would be ideal if Senator Lieberman could even stop there for just a day or two en route to or from Singapore. This way, Senator Lieberman could see Taiwan and call on President Ma Ying-jeou before the January 2011 elections and be able to visit Taiwan in the 100th year of the Republic of China (Taiwan's official name).

Please let me know if this might be at all possible, thanks very much in advance for your kind consideration.

Sean --

Per our conversation today this is further to the possibility of a trade-focused mission to Taiwan in early 2012 that would include Congressmen Tonko, Owens & Hanna. Both Congressman Hanna & Owens have committed to this trip in January, 2012 House schedule permitting. I have spoken to Congressman Tonko and Rachel Lipsey about this too but wanted to keep you in the discussion loop. Here's the background:

There is a major opportunity to build on the very strong position of the Mohawk Valley corridor as a major force in nanotechnology and advanced computer chip research, development and manufacture. The recent announcement of the latest concerted research undertaking on next generation 450 computer chips again highlights this opportunity. There is now a very real possibility that several computer chip fab plants will locate in New York, following on the successful effort to attract Global Foundries to Saratoga County.

The next "shovel ready" site for receiving one of these multi-billion dollar plants is at a location developed by Mohawk Valley EDGE (Economic Development Growth Enterprises Corporation) in Marcy, NY. This site is located just a few miles beyond the border of the 21st District, and is within the emerging Mohawk Valley high tech corridor, and would be great boon to communities and residents across this corridor. Such a manufacturing facility would also undoubtedly have a direct positive impact on the research and development activities that are in the heart of the 30th CD. This synergy will solidify our area's preeminence in this advanced industrial field.

All of which leads to the proposed Taiwan trip. One of the companies that is considering New York as a potential chip manufacturing site is the Taiwan Semiconductor Manufacturing Company (TSMC). The Marcy/EDGE site is an obvious focus of their attention here. In fact, Marcy/EDGE officials visited TSMC in July. A visit to the TSMC leadership by a bi-partisan delegation of New York Members of Congress would thus amplify on this opportunity.

Park Strategies is in a unique position to facilitate and coordinate this trade mission, as we represent both the Taipei Economic and Cultural Representative Office (TECRO) and Mohawk Valley EDGE. We will work to put together a working trip that will stress strengthening the business and economic ties that can bind our national interests together in mutually beneficial ways. What's more, this trip will not cost U.S. taxpayers anything. Taiwan pays for the trip via the U.S. State Department's Mutual Educational and Cultural Exchange Act (MEACA). Speaking of Taiwan, I must remind you that Park Strategies, LLC, Senator D'Amato and I are registered with the U.S. Department of Justice, under the Foreign Agents Registration Act, as agents on behalf of our client, the Taipei Economic and Cultural Representative Office (TECRO) in the United States.

As part of this trip we can also facilitate other particular meetings of interest to various delegation members. By way of example, on a recent trip to Taiwan we helped arrange, Congressman Tom Reed visited with the leadership of a Taiwan facility owned by the Corning Corporation, which is a major economic force in his district, and also met with Taiwan President Ma Ying-jeou. I know such a trip is a major commitment of Congressman Tonko's time but given his leadership position on high tech issues and his particular interest in promoting the computer chip industry he has helped to foster in NY, I hope he will decide to join this trade mission.

Thanks, and I look forward to following up with you.

Regards,

John Zagame

I'm sure that's also fine. Whenever's good for Rep. Owens is I'm sure also good for Taiwan.

In this same vein, is there any possibility of or appetite for a trip during the week between Christmas and New Year's? The boss was looking at that as a possibility as well, but we weren't sure if that would work. Lemme know! -Jon

Dear Jon,

We're happy hearing Rep. Owens might soon visit Taiwan. January 11th-14th is obviously a little more exciting, given current events at the time, but either time slot's fine.

Please see attached a DRAFT itinerary for Rep. Reed's trip. As you can see, there are several blocks of free time for anything else that Rep. Owens might want to do there.

Let's talk soon, thanks so much.

Best wishes,

Sean King

Funny you should ask! Literally just got word from the boss that he's interested in going either Jan 4 - 7 or Jan 11 - 14. I believe his preference is for the former, but I have relayed the election angle and really either would work. Likewise, he would welcome Mr. Hanna coming along, for sure.

Two things I wanted to ask. First, is staff welcome on the trip, and if so how many? Second, can you send me a (rough, I know) agenda for what would take place on his trip over there? Just something I can share with the boss to let him know what it is he would be doing with his time over there. Really I'd like to be able to show him likely flight options, give him a sense of how long he'd be there and what meetings might take place.

Thanks Sean! Talk soon, -jon
